WELLSBURG.

The Great Town on the River North of Wheeling.

RAILWAY AND WATER FREIGHTS

More Manufacturing Industries are Wanted and Encouragement Will be Given to any one who Wishes to Locate There-The Town is Growing Fast.

A capitalist or manufacturer who ishes to improve and better his conor anyone contemplating en raging in the manufacturing business, hould not fall to look into the many dvantages of Wellsburg, the county at of Brooke county. Wellsburg has plenty of level land for sites, and the ver and trunk lines of railroads gives the very best of freight rates, both in he eastern and western markets. In the matter of fuel it is, perhaps, one of the best, if not the best, city in the state, having two trunk lines of gas and the very best steaming and gas coal is taken direct from the mines to the furpace, and the gas and coal companies are always willing to make concessions to new enterprises that help build the city.

Wellsburg is handsomely situated, with paved streets and long, shaded avenues, making it a very pretty town. It has water works, electric lights, two telephone companies, seven glass plants, two paper mills, one foundry and machine shop, besides many other industries that go to make a hustling, busy city. The schools are the best and a new $20,000 building will be erected this year and all church denominations are represented with good buildings, the city hall is one of the finest in the state, and the total bonded in debtedness of the city is only $30,000, making the tax rate very low. Ques-tions about Wellsburg will be gladly answered by L. N. Fickelson, the leading dealer in real estate, who is pushing his town and is making many sales every week.

About the most enterprising man in Wellsburg is Sheriff G. W. McCleary, who is also engaged in the furniture and undertaking business and livery. Mr. McCleary has been a resident of Wellsburg since 1883, and since that time he has served as mayor six years, time he has served as mayor six years, and the handsome city hall and water works were erected during his administration, the city hall being paid for in cash, leaving it free from debt. He has also been a member of the board of public works many years. In 1895 he was elected, sheriff of Brooke county, and has proved himself a very thorough and efficient officer.

The Royal Gas Company, and the Tri-state Gas Company have two of the largest pipe lines in the country, and can furnish fourteen million feet of gas per day, and the district agent, George C. Wells, would be pleased to correspond with anyone who wishes to locate in Wellsburg, about the supply of gas and the price.

J. S. Liggett is the lending dealer in grain and feed, flour and farm produce and wool, nalls, salt, etc., and does a very large business. He also runs a saw mill, manufacturing all kinds of oak lumber and bill stuff, besides owning one of the finest stock farms in Washington county. Pa. He is one of the leading business men in Wellsburg. Wellsburg.

J. F. Cree. one of the leading attornies of Wellsburg, has made many transfers in real estate the past few years, and he is one of the best posted men on land values in Brooke county. He has several real estate bargains on hand.

Thomas J. Reid, general merchant, is a firm believer that oil can be obtained in Brooke county, and he has secured leases on about 3,000 acres of land east of town, and is now forming a company to put down a test well at once. Mr. Reid has made a careful study of the matter, and he is sanguine that oil in paying quantities can be found. In 1884 a gasser was found on or near the same property.

J. B. Walkinshaw, M. D., is one of Weilsburg's best pushers. He was for several years a member of the state board of health, and has been county coroner for ten years.

R. H. Cotton has been practicing law in Wellsburg since 1886, and is now serving his second term as prosecuting attorney. He is one of the leading law-yers in Brooke county.

I. W. Clemens, the leading funeral director, has just moved into handsome new quarters and has a fine livery in connection. Mr. Clemens has been identified with Wellsburg since 1873 and he is a firm believer in the future growth of the city.

The Frank Glass Company is one of Wellsburg's leading glass factories, and employs about one hundred people, and the Wirth Bros. 'decorating works that are being added, will employ seventy more. It is a valuable addition to Wellsburg. The manager is James Frank and George W. Russell, secretary and treasurer. Mr. Russell is one of the best known men in the county, having served twenty years as county having served twenty years as superintendent of schools, and years as justice of the peace.

Dr. B. F. Harden, for eighteen years a resident of Wellsburg, believes in pushing his favorite city. He is a member of the possion board.

Dr. J. M. Cooper has been in Wells-burg since 1857, and in the drug busi-ness since 1870. He is the leading in-surance agent and is also a member of the pension board, and is one of Wellsburg's best pushers.

J. M. Walker & Company, the hard-ware dealers, have been doing busi-ness for seventiesn years, and their house is the oldest in Wellsburg, and the largest. Mr. Walker is president of the telephone company and is one of e most enterprising men in Wells

The Commercial Bank of Wellsburg is one of the best known and most popular institutions in the Pan Handle, J. S. Beall, the cashier, has been a Wellsburg business man for more than lifty years, and was cashier of the Wellsburg National bank for eighteen years, Col. W. W. Beall, assistant cashier, is one of the best and most favorably known men in the state. He served on ex-Governor MacCorkle's staff, besides holding other places of trust in Democratic councils. Colonel Beall is a hustling Wellsburg man,

Came to the Stogie Aggregation Last Week—The Team's Batting Fell off, While the Fielding Percentage is

Last week's campaign of the Stogles at Grand Rapids and Toledo was the most disastrous of the season. Five straights were dropped, four to the Torreyson Misfits and one to the leaders. Ineffective pitching on the part of the local twiriers and inability of the Stogies to hit, combined to bring about this very unwelcome state of affairs. In fielding, however, the Stogles did very well and increased their percent-

In batting, Lyons and Taylor are now tied for first place, but both of them dropped away back from their records of a week before. Dobbs, on the other hand, increased his average two points. These three are all in the .300 class. The figures in detail: BATTING.

DAYTON, Ohio, July 10 .- Heavy hit ting does not describe what Dayton did to-day in the two games with Wheeling. Despite the rain and the wet field, the two teams took the diafore a crowd much improved since Dayton's picking up, and though the Stogies found the leather once in a while, the Old Soldiers waded through with their batting order a hit almost straight down the line in some innings. It was terrific. Score:
